Miss Packer, spent the holidays at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Thorpe.

Born—at the Bentley Hospital, on March 30th, to Mr. and Mrs. C. Suggott, of Bentley, a daughter.

The following Bentley people journeyed to Edmonton on Wednesday on business: Mr. H. C. Hopkins, Dr. Wm. A. Henry, Percy Thorp, R. Garries, H. Brownlow and A. B. Haarstad.

Mr. Wilkie, of the teaching staff spent his Easter holidays in Edmonton.

Mr. O. R. Johnston is opening an up-to-date tinship and repair shop in the Old Cottage Hotel building. Mr. Johnston has many years of experience and will be very pleased to show you what he can do. His prices are very reasonable and he guarantees all work. Give him a trial and be convinced.

An event of importance to which we are all looking ahead is the proposed visit of the Welsh Male Choir of Wood River, to the United Church, Bentley, on Sunday, April 3rd. It is hoped a large crowd will be present.

VIMY ANNIVERSARY
Once again the time has come around when returned men meet to commemorate the taking of Vimy Ridge.

The commemoration usually takes the form of what is known as the Vimy Dinner and is held in every City and larger town throughout Canada.

The Lacombe Canadian Legion has put on several very successful Banquets upon this occasion, where returned men and their friends can meet and spend an evening of enjoyment together.

At 7:30 o'clock Friday, April 8th, in the Adelphi Hotel, the Lacombe Branch of the Canadian Legion, have made arrangements to put on the Third Annual Vimy Dinner, and we extend to every Old Soldier, his good wife and friends, a very hearty invitation to be present. This invitation to not only applies to Returned Men, but to anyone who is interested enough to come and spend a few hours with the Old Boys.

There will be one speaker for the evening, from Calgary.

Lacombe Canadian Legion, T. Wilkes, Pres.

S. Edmunds, Secy.

SPRUCEVILLE NEWS
Please note that the Whist Drive for April 1st has been cancelled.

The Poplar Ridge Dramatic Society are putting on a play in Spruceville Hall on April 8th, starting at 8:30, called "The Laughing Core" with nine characters taking part.

This should be good as we all enjoyed the play previously put on by Poplar Ridge.

The Hall Management, had a meeting Saturday night at the home of Mr. Boden, Sr., where plans were made for improving the hall and grounds. So we can look for some changes in the near future.

The Easter entertainment held on Monday night in the school was enjoyed by all present. The singing and recitations were all well done, the tableaux put on by Mrs. Barker, being very effective. The star performer of the evening was little Laurence Proudfoot who rendered his solo very nicely.

A real treat was enjoyed by those attending the concert in Spruceville Hall, March 24, when Artists from the Canadian Junior College offered an evening of the finest kind of entertainment. One of the drawbacks of a rural community is the lack of opportunity to hear and enjoy real good music. Such an opportunity was afforded last Thursday evening by the musicians from the College.

One would go a long way to hear finer or better rendered music than was afforded by the String Trio or the Guitars. The Vocal Solos were splendid, while the Duet was of the class one hears only on rare occasions. The Dialogue was well executed, of rare humor and with a fine lesson in Co-operation. Altogether this programme was one that could not be missed without one being guilty of having lost a wonderful opportunity to enjoy some of the finer things of life.

The only regrettable part was that the Hall was not filled to capacity. We hope to have another opportunity to enjoy such a programme in the near future.

SIXTEEN CARS OF BULLS SHIPPED TO CALGARY
Lacombe cattlemen are well represented at the Calgary Bull Sale

MacKenzie Bros. took 2nd in the finished steers class; J. L. Walters took first in the finished cattle class; 2nd in the finished steers under 1200 lbs. was taken by MacKenzie Bros. J. L. Walters and MacKenzie Bros. were also winners of several prizes in other classes.

W. Cheeser took 4th for purebred or grade steer 1100 lbs. and under.

J. Bigland, H. Magillan and others made a good showing.

MEADOWBROOK NEWS
Remember the Ladies' Aid meeting on April 9th at the home of Mrs. R. Sturgeon.

The play given on by the young people was very successful at Morning.

Miss Pauline Wettstein will spend her Easter holidays at her home at Stetler.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Long held a card party at her home last Saturday night when a large number of friends turned out.

Mr. Howard Sharp had a normal student with him practice teaching at his school.

Some of our neighbors saw as many as 14 gophers this week.

The wedding bells are ringing in the Wilnot district.

Mr. Nathan Taylor had the misfortune to cut his hand badly.

There was a quilting bee at the home of Mrs. A. Riley. Those assisting were Mrs. Herb. Riley, Mrs. Joe Long, Mrs. Ed. Uhlman. Those visiting were Miss Evan Long and Master George Kinley. A very pleasant afternoon was spent.

MARRIED
Reimer—Lee

St. Cyprian's Rectory, Lacombe, the solemn ceremony of a quiet marriage on the evening of Tuesday, March 29th, when Nora Hazel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lee, of Lousana, Alberta, became the bride of Henry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Reimer, also of Lousana.

The Rev. T. H. Chapman, Rector of St. Cyprian's Church officiated. The happy young couple were attended by Miss Ruby M. Lee, a sister of the bride, and by Mr. Ben Reimer, a brother of the groom, and they two signed the Parish Register as witnesses.

HONOR FOR LACOMBE GIRL
The Albertan in writing of the Boys' and Girls' Clubs, exhibit at Calgary says: For many a year the Boy Scouts of Lacombe have been contributing stars in various club and exhibition works among farm young people, and their triumphs were increased on Tuesday when Frances Roper, showing a purebred Shorthorn steer took the championship for baby heifer and the grand championship for fat animal of the entire show and won substantial awards in taken thereof. And just by way of keeping Lacombe in the front rank, a citizen of that town, W. J. Taylor, sold the high price of the auction of the girls' and boys' animal for Frances Roper. The steer was sold for 30 cents per pound.

WE'RE SORRY, MALONEY
We made an error in our reference to electric Maloney in the last week and paper, and ask that gentleman to pardon us. We said that Maloney did not allow "our National Anthem" to be sung at his meetings. We had "O, Canada," our National Anthem, in mind not "God Save the King."

It is "O, Canada" which is taboo with him.

MR. S. EDMUNDS HONORED
On Thursday evening, March 24, Mr. Seymour Edmunds, Farm Foreman, was the guest of honor at a silver celebration tendered in his behalf by the staff of the Lacombe Experimental Station, the occasion being the anniversary of his twenty-five year's connection with the Farm here.

Mr. Edmunds, who has been with the Farm since its inception here in 1907, is the only present employee to hold this record. Mr. H. E. Caruthers, holder of the record for second place, made the presentation of a silver tea service, to which Mr. Edmunds suitably replied.

An appropriate program included slides picturing the various stages of the Farm's growth, shown by Mr. E. E. Delagrange, Assistant Superintendent, while Mr. F. H. Reed, Superintendent gave a resume of what the Farm has accomplished and present and future plan.

Mr. Edmunds also reviewed the equipment of the Farm, contrasting the small beginnings of the early years with its three buildings, five outside employees and one office man, with its present array of six beautiful dwellings, dairy, huge horse and cattle barns, silos, pigsty and poultry houses, an excellent 8-car garage and basement, thirty outside employees and an office

A Great War A Great Pestilence A Great Depression!

ALL within twenty years. Could there be a more gruelling test?

Yet life insurance stands invincible. During that whole period it paid every obligation promptly and fully — as it has ever since the Dominion was formed.

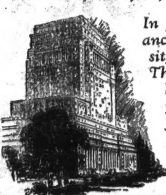

The Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada itself paid to policyholders and beneficiaries in cash during these periods —

The War (1914-1918)

The Flu (1919)

The Depression (1930-1931)

— over $226,000,000. It has paid to its policyholders and beneficiaries since formation nearly $600,000,000.

In prosperity, life insurance is valuable; in adversity it is indispensable. The protection of your home, the security of your business, the comfort of your old age, depend first on adequate life insurance.

Have you enough?

THE LATE MARY ANN CARTER

The funeral of Mary Ann Carter, widow of the late Anthony Carter, was held from the old farm home on Tuesday, March 29th, at 3 p.m., the Rev. Rev. Father Harrison conducting the service.

Mary Ann Carter was born in Dublin, Ireland, March 23rd, 1863, and died on March 29th, 1932. When only six weeks old she left Ireland with her parents to make their home in Michigan, U.S.A. At the age of 23 years she was united in marriage to Mr. Anthony Carter, who predeceased her five years ago.

To the union these were born twelve children—seven daughters and five sons—five of the children having predeceased their mother. The seven surviving are—Mrs. Edward Ellis of Banff, Alberta; Mrs. J. Chapman, of 10880 133rd St., Edmonton, Alberta; John B. Carter, Niobrara, Grande Prairie district; Chester, of Morningside; Marvin and Ray, of Ponoka and Edward, of Morningside, all of whom were at their mother's bedside when she passed away.

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Carter and family moved west in 1880, settling in South Dakota where they moved west, this time to Lettbridge, Alberta, three years later moving to the present home, near Morningside, where they both continued to reside until their demise.

Mrs. Carter was the last of the Ryan family, her brother, Mike Ryan, of Butte, Montana, being called in death one month ago.

The late Mrs. Carter was one of the early settlers in the district, a true pioneer; the latch string on the outside of her door to the friend and settler who needed a warm hearth, and cheerful welcome; ever willing to extend a helping hand to those in need as is characteristic of the true pioneer. Too glowing a tribute cannot be paid to such courageous people who came and settled in our district, nearly forty years ago. Truly they have been history makers of great worth to Alberta.

Electric Cooking and Its Advantages

Economical - Clean - Fast - Convenient - Healthy

An Electric Range Is Economical Because

Food, of course, costs more than fuel. It is a well known fact that shrinkage on food in preparation runs from ten to twenty percent. This percentage, however, is greatly reduced when the food is cooked on an ELECTRIC RANGE, which means that your food budget is increased for the simple reason that you buy less food. Furthermore, an ELECTRIC RANGE, properly operated, works for you at the surprisingly low cost of about one cent per meal per person.

An Electric Range Is Clean Because

There is no soot or smoke to smear your kitchen, pots and pans and other cooking utensils. No tedious scouring. Your appliances retain their original beauty longer, when you cook with ELECTRICITY, clean as sunlight. The ELECTRIC RANGE is easy to clean and equally easy to keep clean.

An Electric Range Is Fast Because

High speed surface elements give quick cooking heat, and the well insulated oven soon reaches baking temperature. Practically all the heat is conserved for cooking, very little being wasted. The ELECTRIC RANGE itself does not radiate heat.

An Electric Range Is Convenient Because

The antiquated practice of "pot-watching" is totally eliminated forever. This tiresome task is efficiently and accurately handled by the Automatic Timer and Oven Heat Control without your supervision. You slip the food in the oven, set the controls, and forget it, knowing that the meal will be perfectly cooked on time, every time, at dinner time. Modern recipes call for the application of specified temperatures for certain time intervals. The ELECTRIC RANGE does this for you to the degree and minute, which means that you experience a new freedom in cooking with positive assurance of better results. The ELECTRIC RANGE can be conveniently placed in your kitchen to save unnecessary steps, and will keep your kitchen cool because of its insulated oven, centering the heat inside, where it belongs.

An Electric Range Is Healthy Because

The full flavor of foods cooked ELECTRICALLY is retained in the food, which also applies to the vitamins, mineral salts and juices, so essential to a properly balanced meal, as the cooking is done with very little water, thereby conserving these health-giving elements, which are lost when ordinary methods are used.

Our prices on Electric Ranges, including installation in your home, are the lowest ever offered in Alberta. We invite you to consult our Local Manager for these prices and full details of our Convenient Time Payment Plan

Vancouver Man Has Spent Long Life-time in Canada

Described by Judge J. N. Ellis as the liveliest man of 98 he had ever seen, Alvarez Rhody Haasburg, tailor, of Vancouver, was recommended for Canadian citizenship by his honor in naturalization court.

Haasburg, whose father was a Danish sailor and his mother a native of Brazil, remembered Halifax, Nova Scotia, before the advent of the steamship, according to answers made to the judge. He claimed 1834 for the year of his birth.

He left Halifax 77 years ago, has been a resident of British Columbia since 1888, and saw the first C.P.R. train pass through Port Moody.

The old man informed the judge that he had never been out of Canada more than 24 hours in that time.

Prince Dedicates Memorial

Gigantic Arch Carries Inscription "The Missing of the Somme"
A memorial to 70,000 missing men, the largest and one of the most imposing on the old World War battlefields, was dedicated March 16 by the Prince of Wales on behalf of the British Empire at Thiepval. The men are the Missing of the Somme, where the British army wrote a page in history of gallantry and sacrifice.

The unveiling is to be made a sacred event in the annals of Franco-British unity and companionship on the field of battle. High French officials of the state and army co-operated with the British in paying homage to the lost legion.

Troops of both countries participated in the ceremonies which will solemnly revive the spirit of the Somme Cordiale.

The great granite monument, which is in the form of a gigantic arch, stands on the summit of a hill overlooking a plain where over 200,000 British troops lost their lives. It is 160 feet high and its piers are inscribed with 73,387 names.

This is easily the largest list on any battle memorial in France, and contains nearly 30,000 more names than are carved on the walls of the famous Menin Gate at Ypres, another great British monument.

Around the Thiepval memorial are 500 graves containing remains collected from the neighboring battlefields, but the names on the piers are "those who have no known graves." An inscription on the upper part of the arch says: "The Missing of the Somme."

The opening of the Thiepval memorial, which was designed by Sir Edwin Lutyens, marked the completion of the British undertaking to dedicate suitable monuments to her sons who fell in France.

No further construction is planned and the ceremony is looked upon with greater significance because it will be the last of its kind. The staff of the Imperial War Graves Committee, which, excluding local labor, numbered at one time 2,633 persons, will be reduced to about 500, including gardeners and caretakers, which are all former British service men.

Humble French peasants in the Somme district rallied behind their officials in their earnest desire to pay homage to the saviours of their fields.

Indian Poets Remembered

Memory Of Pauline Johnson Revered By Canadian Artists

March 7th was the 19th anniversary of the death of Canada's famous Indian poetess, Pauline Johnson.

On March 7, 1913, "Tekahai Onwaka," as she was known in her own Indian language, died in Vancouver. This year as usual her memorial at Siwash Rock in Stanley Park, bore gifts of snowdrops and daffodils, tribute from some anonymous admirer.

For every year on this day flowers are to be found on the memorial erected in May, 1922, by the Women's Canadian Club.

Pauline Johnson was born at "Chiefswood," Brant County, Ont., the daughter of the head chief of the Six Nations Indians and an English mother.

During her lifetime she crossed Canada with concert trips more than a dozen times, giving her readings as many as 125 times on one tour. On two occasions her tours extended to Europe.

Conscription in Peace Time

Many Nations Still Call Up Recruits For Training

There are still many nations resorting to conscript armies even in time of peace. By calling up the young men in their various classes, the military leaders train the citizens for service. After the period of drilling has elapsed, the soldiers are placed on the reserve lists and are liable to call in case of war.

There are 36 nations using conscription to train recruits. Among these the following are the most important: The time of service is indicated as:

France, 12 months; Italy, 18 months; Japan, 2 years; Russia, from 2 to 5 years; Poland, 2 years; Belgium, from 8 to 14 months; Czechoslovakia, 14 months; and Yugoslavia, 18 months.

Fifty-Year-Old Sign

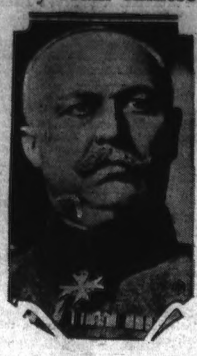

The daddy of the modern electric advertising sign has been found at Virginia City, Nevada, famous old gold mining camp of the Comstock lode. It is a glass cigar, constructed of from 15,000 to 20,000 glass prisms. About fifty years ago, it was illuminated by gas light and advertised a tobacco dealer's wares, and incidentally, to add to the glamor of the hectic night life of the '70's.

Remarkable Memories

Records In Following Article Could Hardly Be Bettered

In his last lecture on London Journalism, Stanley Morrison referred to one of the most remarkable cases of memory training on record, that of the "Parliamentary Intelligence" in the Morning Chronicle, which ran for nearly a century from 1770. The article was written by the proprietor, "Memory" Woodfall, who would sit in the House of Commons gallery hour after hour with his eyes closed, and then without taking a single note, return to his office and write seven columns of word-for-word report.

It can only have been a very rough approximation, but unless far accuracy had been achieved the experiment could not have been continued. People have known Shakespeare and the Bible from end to end, but perhaps Mr. Woodfall's nearest competitor was that Miss Canning to whom Creevey tells us that in a comparative few hours she could "repeat the whole of a Times newspaper from beginning to end, advertisements and all."

President Of Biscuit Company Tells Success Story and What Consistent Advertising Will Do

A romance of modern business that should be an inspiration to every small store-keeper was told to newspaper men today (Friday, February 26th) by Mr. C. E. Edmonds, President of Christie, Brown and Company, Limited, who is completing its fifty-sixth year of service with the company.

Mr. Edmonds, who can recall personally much of the rise of the Christie, Brown organization, told how the giant biscuit company was started in a small store on Yonge Street, Toronto, by two men with a working capital of probably not more than $500. Today the business they founded is capitalized at millions of dollars and is the largest industry of its type in Canada. It has two manufacturing plants in the East, another—the million dollar Winnipeg plant opened last week—in the West and thirteen distributing branches from Halifax to Vancouver.

The simple history of Christie, Brown and Company as told by the active veteran president is this: The business began in 1849 when two young men, James Mathers and Alexander Brown formed a partnership in a store in Toronto to make biscuits. They had with them as assistant salesman, William Christie, who was destined to become a partner and eventually play an important part in Canada's biscuit making industry.

The biscuits sold from this small bakery became popular with a limited clientele and the business began to progress. Four years later Brown and Mathers retired and the business was handled by young William Christie. Mr. Brown, however, re-entered the company in 1861 and the name, Christie, Brown and Company, Limited was adopted.

Confederation of Canada in 1867 found the business firmly established as one of Canada's coming concerns. In 1871 and again in 1874 larger premises were required and it was symptomatic of the sales energy behind the organization that the first trans-Canada train had a Christie representative on board.

From that point the business has never looked back until today Christie Biscuits are known round the world. The original store in Toronto has been replaced by three factories, one occupying nearly a whole downtown block in Toronto, the second Toronto factory occupying many thousands of square feet of floor space and the third, the new Winnipeg plant, acknowledged the finest biscuit factory on the continent.

The original plant turned out a very small variety of biscuits. Today over 500 lines are marketed.

And here, according to Mr. Edmonds, is the real key to success in the Christie, Brown organization. It has consistently maintained a high standard of quality in its products and has advertised steadily in good times and bad, using newspapers from coast to coast, year in and year out.

Boost For Canada

Uncle Sam is still discounting the Canadian dollar. As we have remarked before, "Go to it, Uncle." It means a boost in the sale of Canadian-made goods to the Great West. Most grocers, druggists and department stores have Canapars on sale, but if you haven't seen one, direct to the makers and we'll give you a new and unique book entitled "Leftovers", containing one hundred recipes as a bonus for your trouble.

Arctic Stowaways

Numerous stowaways, including two girls, who sought the adventure of a trip north to the ice floes, were landed from the six sealing ships which make up this year's fleet when dense fog and an ice jam held up the steamers outside the Narrows as they sailed a short time ago from St. John's, Newfoundland.

An Extraordinary Mystery

Indian Rope Trick Is Still Subject Of Controversy

However close the world wags, it will always have one element of stability. The controversy over the Indian rope trick seems likely to endure forever. It has been revived in London, England, brought to particular view by a letter to the London Morning Post, in which the widow of a retired Colonel in the Indian cavalry asserts that she saw the trick done in northern India 25 years ago. Her own story of her experience runs thus:

"I remember it quite distinctly. I was sitting in a room on the first floor of the hotel and from the window saw a group of natives outside. One of them asked for a rope and was supplied by a hotel servant. And it stayed there. Immediately a small native boy climbed up to the top of the rope and disappeared at a height of about twenty feet or more. About half a minute later the boy reappeared from another part of the hotel grounds and the rope was handed back to the servant."

The colonel's widow added that she believed that the trick could be explained on the ground of hypnotism.

Ordinarily reports of the successful performance of the rope trick have the weakness of hearsay evidence, but in the case of the colonel's widow there was an eyewitness to be dealt with. The response to the story was correspondingly sharp. A retired lieutenant-colonel who had spent thirty-two years in India, a good part of it in the effort to see the trick done, reported failure, and so taken for a standing offer of two thousand rupees to any native who would do the trick for him, he suggested that the honorary vice-president of the Magic Circle, called the Indian rope trick a myth and said that rewards of amounts up to $500 have been and still are offered without a claimant.

Major L. H. Brauer, late of the Indian Army, maintained that the trick had never been performed. During his twenty-five years of service in India, Major Brauer stood standing a reward for performance of the trick, but it never was claimed. Thus the skeptics.

More extraordinary than the denials was a story contributed by E. S. Barnett, who found it in Lord Frederic Hamilton's, "Here, There and Everywhere." It was told to the author by a Colonel Barnard, some time Chief of Police in Calcutta, and concerned the experience of Colonel Barnard and a subordinate. According to Colonel Barnard's story, he and this subordinate watched an Indian juggler perform the rope trick and took photographs as the rope was paid out, as the boy climbed the rope, and as the juggler descended.

The two Englishmen returned home mystified by the trick. Then Colonel Barnard developed and printed his pictures. They showed that neither the juggler nor the boy nor the rope had moved at all. The photographs of the boy climbing the rope, of the juggler following him, and of the juggler descending were photographs of the United States flag. In brief it is a tale told tale, this is an even better story than that told by the colonel's widow. It should give fresh life to the controversy.

Would Prohibit Sunday Advertising Over Radio

Movement On Foot In United States Interests Canadian Listeners

Radio listeners in Canada will follow with interest the movement on foot in the United States to prohibit Sunday advertising. The proposed bill is offered as an amendment to the United States Act, in brief it provides that on Sunday there shall be no commercial announcements setting for the merits of this and that product. However, under its provisions the name of the sponsor of the program may be given at the beginning and end of each program, and with a period of one hour between announcements.

Provided the bill becomes law there will be at least one day in the week during which one does not have to listen to a barrage of windy sales talks from across the line. Anyway, who wants to listen to ballyhoo advertising on the Lord's Day? Business cares and mundane affairs should be set aside for the day.

British Art Exhibit

Exhibition Is Sponsored By the National Gallery Of Canada

A comprehensive and representative exhibition comprising some of the best examples of contemporary British art, sponsored by the National Gallery of Canada, was officially opened by His Excellency the Earl of Beaulieu, Governor-General of Canada, Arranged by the National Gallery, co-operation with the director of the National Gallery of British Art in London, England, the exhibition has been collected for the purpose of acquainting the Canadian public with the work of present day English artists. After a month's showing here it will be sent to other Canadian cities.

Announcement was made that the Governor-General had consented to become honorary president of the National Gallery.

Perhaps the most marked feature of the exhibition is the wide diversity of style revealed by the individual paintings. Numbered among the 125 paintings which comprise the exhibition are examples of the work of practically every artist of importance now living in England.

There are outstanding pictures by Sir William Orpen, R.A.; Augustus John, R.A.; a self-portrait of Sir William Rothenstein, a fine example of the famous painter's work, Professor Henry Tonks, and many other artists of note.

A "Dust" Newspaper

Owing to police activities in India, the national press has adopted the Ethel Patricia or "Dust" newspapers for a means of propaganda or notice of meetings, etc. The reporters in this instance write their notices either with a stick in the dust of the roadway at designated spots or chalk is utilized. When these "dust" newspapers are discovered by the police the places are moved elsewhere.

THE HOUSE OF DREAMS-COME-TRUE

MARGARET FEEDLER

Author of "The Splendid Folly" "The Hermit of the Hills" "The House of Dreams-Come-True"

Hodder & Stoughton, Ltd., London.

"Don't look so blue!" Claire's voice broke in upon her gloomy trend of thought. She was laughing, and Jean was conscious of a sudden uprush of admiration for the young gay courage which could laugh even while it could not look forward. "After all, there are compensations in life. For one of them, my Jean, as I've told you before! Now let's talk about something else."

Jean responded gladly enough, and presently Sir Adrian was temporarily forgotten in the little intimate half-hour of woman-talk which followed.

CHAPTER XV.

Lady Anne's Disclosure

"Well, have you enjoyed yourself?" enquired Lady Anne when Jean returned. "I suppose so, as you stayed to tea"—smiling.

"Oh, I had tea with Claire. Sir Adrian was away" with a small grimace—"so we had quite a nice little time together. But—my madonna—Jean had fallen into the use of the graceful little name which Blaise and Nick kept for their mother."

"I really enjoyed myself very much. Judith was ever so much nicer than I expected."

"So now, I suppose, we shall all be side-tracked in favour of Burke and his sister?" put in Blaise, who had been listening quietly. There was a sharpness in his tones, as though the prospect did not please.

Jean smiled at him engagingly. "Of course you will," she replied. "I invariably side-track old friends when I get a chance."

"Yes, I think I shall"—demurely. "Geoffrey has always been nice to me; and now Judith, too, has succumbed to my charms, and says she hopes we shall be good pals."

"Forman rose, pushing back his chair with unnecessary violence.

"I don't think I see Judith Craig extending her friendship to Glyn Peterson's daughter," he commented cynically.

An instant later the door banged behind him, and Lady Anne and Jean looked across at each other smiling, as women will when one of their kindred proceeds to behave exactly like a cross little boy.

But a quick sigh chased the smile from Lady Anne's lips.

"Poor old Blaise!" she murmured.

as though to herself. Then, her grey eyes meeting Jean's squarely, she said quietly:

"Jean, you're so much one of us, now, that I should like you to know what lies at the back of things. You'd understand—some of us better."

Jean turned impulsively. "I don't need to understand you," she said quickly. "I love you."

"Thank you, my dear," Lady Anne's voice trembled slightly. "If I were not sure of that, I shouldn't tell you what I am going to. But I want you to understand Blaise—and to make allowances for him, if you can."

Jean pulled forward a stool and settled herself at Lady Anne's feet.

"Do you mean about the 'mark of the beast'?" she asked, smiling a little. "Blaise told me to ask you about it one day."

"Did he? He thinks far too much about it and what it stands for"—sighing. "It has come to be almost a symbol in his eyes. You see, he has suffered from the family falling—the very falling that was responsible for that white lock of hair."

Lady Anne looked down at her thoughtfully.

"Well, there's no need for me to tell you that the Tormarins have hot tempers! You've seen evidence of it in Blaise—such sudden flaring up of anger. Though he has learnt through one most bitter experience to hold himself in check or less in check."

She paused a moment, as if her thoughts had reverted painfully to the past. Presently she resumed: "All the Tormarin men have had it—that blazing uncontrollable kind of temper which simply cannot brook opposition. Blaise's father had it, and it was that which made our life together so unhappy."

So breathily had been busy with her snuffers here, also!

"You—you, too!" whispered Jean. "I, too?" Lady Anne questioned.

"What does that mean?" "Why, it seems to me as if 'no one' is ever allowed to be really happy and to live their life in peace! There is Judith, whose life my father split, and Claire, whose life Sir Adrian spoiled—and that means Nick's life as well. And now—yours!"

Some unconscious instinct of reticence deep within her forbade the mention of Blaise Tormarin's name.

"I expect we are not meant to be too joyful," said Lady Anne. "Though, after all, it's largely our own fault if we are not. We make or mar each other's happiness; it isn't Fate."

But I've had my share of happiness. Jean never thinks that I haven't! Afterwards, with Claude, I was utterly happy."

She fell silent for a space, ceasing on that quiet note of happiness. Presently, almost loth to disturb the reverie into which she had fallen, Jean questioned hesitantly:

"And the 'mark of the beast', madonna? You were going to tell me about it."

"It came as a consequence of the Tormarin temper. That's why Blaise calls it the 'mark of the beast'."

It was just before he was born—when I was waiting for the supreme joy of holding my first-born in my arms. Derrick—Blaise's father—was an extremely jealous-natured man. He hated to think that there had ever been anyone besides himself who cared for me. And there was one man, in particular, of whom he had always been foolishly jealous and suspicious. I can't imagine why, though—with a little puzzled laugh. "You would think that the mere fact that I had married him, and not the other man, would have been sufficient proof that he had no cause for jealousy. But no! Men are queer creatures, and he always resented my friendship with John Lovett—which continued after my marriage. I had known John from childhood, and he was the truest friend a woman ever had!" she sighed. "And I needed friends in those days! For somehow flooding over things to himself, my husband conceived an idea that the little son who was coming was but his own child—but the child of John Lovett. I think someone must have poisoned his mind. There was a certain woman of our acquaintance whom I always suspected she hated me and was very much attached to Derrick—she had wanted to marry him, I believe. In any case, he came home one evening, from her house, like a madman, and there was a scene!—a terrible scene!—he was hurling accusations at me."

"I won't talk of it, because he was bitterly repentant afterwards. As soon as the fit of rage was past, he realized how utterly groundless his suspicions had been, and I don't think he ever ceased to reproach himself. But that has always been the way! The Tormarins have invariably brought the bitterest self-reproach upon themselves. One way or another, the same story of blind, reckless anger, and its consequences, has repeated itself generation after generation."

"And then? What happened then?" asked Jean in low, shocked tones.

"It was very ill—so ill that they thought I should die. But I didn't live, and I brought my baby into the world. Only he was born with that white lock of hair. And my own hair had turned perfectly white."

"I was silent for a little. At last she said softly:

"I'm so glad, madonna, that you were happy afterwards. 'Your house of dreams' came true in the end!"

"Yes—Lady Anne's grey eyes were very bright and luminous. My house of dreams came true while this country's consumption of timothy seed is fully 8,000,000 pounds a year. Canada only produces 1,500,000 pounds a year, importing mostly from the United States of America. Mr. Clark goes on to say:

"At the present time timothy seed in Eastern Canada is bringing farmers around 9c. per pound, while the price in Western Canada is around 8c. per pound. This price is, of course, controlled largely by the price at which United States producers can lay their product down at Canadian points, and this price includes such items as the cost of the seed, transportation, insurance, handling charges, and customs duty. Are there good reasons for these importations, or could that production profitably be kept at home?"

"The words leapt from Jean's lips before she could check them. In the account of Tormarin's life she had heard which had been forced upon her hearing in London, there had been no mention of the war marriage, and she had always imagined that the woman, this Nestie Freyre, had simply left him for another man. Moreover, since she had been at Staple, nothing had been said to correct this impression, as, very naturally, the subject was one avoided by general consent.

Experiment Brought Success

Australia Staked Unemployed To Re-explore Old Goldfields

"Down under" in Australia they have discovered a unique way of caring for a proportion of their unemployed. An Empire Press Union Bulletin tells that prospecting and "fossicking"—re-exploring the old goldfields—by unemployed men increased the value of the State of Victoria for the first eight months of the year by $275,000, and that by the end of the year the increase reached nearly $500,000. Eleven thousand men were supplied with picks, shovels and washing pans and were guaranteed sustenance, or food. They scattered over the state, and others picking their camps on goldfields previously worked, and others pushing out adventurously to the bush in search of new reefs and leads. From time to time the sustenance department was notified by gold seekers that they were able to keep themselves and needed no further assistance. Up to the present the number who have taken themselves off the sustenance roll is about 8,000. In two or three cases it seems likely that the explorations of prospectors, as distinct from the fossickers, will lead to the development of fields that will provide many men with profitable work for some time.

Belief Not So Firm

Smith, after picking up a glove, hung it over a fence, remarking to his companion: "I believe in being honest. Some woman is sure to come looking for it."

A little farther on he came across another glove. By Jove!" he exclaimed. "I believe that's the fellow of the other one. I must go back and get it. I'll take them home for the wife."

Could Prove It

"Do you think," said the intellectual young woman, "that there is any truth in the theory that big creatures are better-natured than small ones?"

"Yes," answered the young man. "I do." Look at the difference between the Jersey moose and the Jersey cow."

Never make fun of simpletons, for Plutarch tells us that wise men learn more from fools than fools from the wise.

HER HUSBAND TEASED HER

But not for long!

"I started taking Kruschen salts for biliousness, and for the last two years I have been perfectly free from an attack. Now I continue to take them, as I find they keep me in perfect health. My husband used to joke about me taking Kruschen salts; now he takes them himself, so do my children. My sincerest thanks."

When your gastric or digestive juices refuse to flow, your food, instead of becoming absorbed into your system, simply collects and ferments inside you, producing harmful acids and gases which give rise to biliousness, heartburn and flatulency.

Kruschen is a combination of six mineral salts, which goes right to the root of the trouble. It first stimulates the flow of gastric and other juices to aid digestion, and then causes complete, regular and unobstructed elimination of waste matter every day. And that means a blessed end to biliousness, and a renewed and whole-hearted enjoyment of your food without the slightest fear of having to pay the old painful penalty.

Timothy Seed Imports

United States Supplies Most Of Canada's Requirements

George H. Clark, Dominion seed commissioner, brings to the attention of Canadian farmers that while this country's consumption of timothy seed is fully 8,000,000 pounds a year, Canada only produces 1,500,000 pounds a year, importing mostly from the United States of America. Mr. Clark goes on to say:

"At the present time timothy seed in Eastern Canada is bringing farmers around 9c. per pound, while the price in Western Canada is around 8c. per pound. This price is, of course, controlled largely by the price at which United States producers can lay their product down at Canadian points, and this price includes such items as the cost of the seed, transportation, insurance, handling charges, and customs duty. Are there good reasons for these importations, or could that production profitably be kept at home?"

Manitoba Income Tax

$400 Paid By Farmers To Provincial Treasury In 1931

Only 40 farmers in Manitoba paid income tax to the provincial government in 1931, according to a report by the tax commission tabled in the legislature. They paid just $400 in the provincial treasury.

In 1929, when Manitoba was prosperous after harvest of the previous fall's bumper crop, farmers contributed $4,500 to the province through income taxes, and in 1930 they paid $2,000.

While agriculture paid only $400 income tax last year, the total amount collected was $812,500. Close to 10,000 persons in Manitoba contributed to this amount.

Interesting To Coffee Drinkers

Beverage Offers Digestive Ills Caused By Noise, Opinion Of Psychologists

The praises of coffee have been sung by many poets, and myriad virtues have been attributed to it, but it has remained for Dr. Donald A. Laird, the eminent psychologist, to discover new values in "the cup that cheers but not inebriates."

Following three years of investigation at Colgate University, into noise and its effects on the human system, Dr. Laird has announced that coffee has a markedly beneficial effect in offsetting the digestive ill-effects caused by noise. After exhaustive tests with "human guinea pigs," he found that the aroma as well as the taste of coffee stimulates the flow of saliva and gastric juices, which noise retards.

Dr. Laird's findings are of interest to almost everyone because, nowadays, almost everyone drinks coffee, and almost everyone is subjected to the venacious noises of modern life. The psychologist stressed one point that should be especially taken to heart by every cook—he specified that coffee, to have a tonic value, must be clear and fresh. That is a good rule to follow, whether you drink your coffee in a cloister or a boiler factory.

Little Helps For This Week

Reduce the Acid

SICK stomachs, sour stomachs and indigestion usually mean excess acid. The stomach nerves are over-stimulated.

Too much acid makes the stomach and intestines sour. Alkali kills acid instantly. The best form of alkali is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia, because one harmless dose neutralizes many times its volume of acid. For 50 years it has stood with physicians everywhere.

Take a spoonful in water and your unhappy condition will probably end in five minutes. Then you will always know what to do. Crude and harmful acids mean death. Phillips' Milk of Magnesia is a great many disagreeable hours. Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians in correcting excess acids.

"I Robbed Your Dresser Drawer"

"This My Signature"

A certain city had an epidemic of house robberies in daytime. The robbers would ring doorbells and if anyone answered, they would make some excuse and depart. But if no one answered, they would break through a window or a skylight. One such robber left his finger print on a broken piece of glass. The police had that print on file. They knew the robber, his name and their records. The crooks were all picked up and convicted. All because one of them had left his finger print.

Germs in Every Print

This is told to remind you that we all leave finger prints on everything we touch. Most of these prints are germs. We pick them up from others—by handshakes—by touching things they have touched. Then we convey them to the mouth, where they breed and so get into the system.

Life Extension Institute lists 37 diseases which may be conveyed in this way. The most common is a cold. A hand used to check a sneeze or a cough may convey germs to others.

We cannot escape these germs. Every handshake, every touch conveys them. The best we can do is to remove the germs or render them harmless before they reach our food.

Safety This Way

Lifebuoy Soap is made to do this. Millions of people in all countries of the world, protect themselves in this way. Lifebuoy contains an antiseptic. Careful laboratory tests have proved that Lifebuoy removes germs or makes them inactive.

Advice and Medicine

Both May Be Harmful If Overdone Is Taken

A doctor said to a patient, "This is just what you need, but be careful to take a teaspoonful each hour. And, above all, do not take the medicine too often, for your body cannot care for more frequent doses." The medicine used correctly was an aid to recovery, but an overdose would have been harmful.

Advice is like the doctor's medicine. He willing to make use of other people's experience, of their successes and failure—if you make progress, you must take advantage of thoroughly tried short-cuts—but avoid an overdose. Do not ask advice indiscriminately, for there are many persons more willing to give than to use the advice they give. If you ask opinions of everyone you meet, you will have great difficulty in sifting the good advice from the bad. You have been given a mind and the power to reason with which to direct your own course. Take advice, of course, but be careful that your own common sense prevails.

Rural Municipalities Hold Interesting Meeting

A meeting of Rural Municipalities held in the Auditorium Hotel, Red Deer, Saturday, March 19th. The following Municipalities were represented: Lorne, No. 403—H. A. Brownlow, Reeve; H. C. Hopkins, Sec.-Treas. Pine Lake—Mr. McBride, Reeve; Geo. McTaggart, Sec.-Treas. Crown, No. 399—F. S. Stewart, Reeve; W. Simpson, Sec.-Treas; O. Heupelshausen, Councilor. Lockhart 401—Mr. Sande, Reeve; Mr. McCallum, Sec.-Treas.; J. Reid, Councilor. Fertile Valley—D. Anton, Reeve; P. McDonald, Sec.-Treas.; Mr. Crowell, Councilor; Mr. Pittgen, Councilor; Mr. Stetch, Councilor; H. Zimmerman, Councilor; P. Palechuck.

Last West 431—Mr. Owens, Reeve; A. Bird, Sec.-Treas. Blindman Valley 430—N. P. Jersey, Reeve; W. A. Sanders, Sec.-Treas. Golden West—W. Stringer, Reeve; A. McCallum, Sec.-Treas. Lamerton 398—W. Wetherill, Reeve. Visitors—Mr. E. Ainsworth, Inspector; Mr. Pepper, Weed Supervisor.

Mr. Brownlow, Reeve of Lorne, was appointed to the chair; Mr. Hopkins, Secretary. The chairman outlined the objects of the meeting which originated at a meeting held at Brownlow Landing on July 11th last year, when a motion was passed authorizing the Reeve and Secretary to call a meeting immediately after the first meeting of the 1932 Council for the purpose of discussing questions affecting adjoining Municipalities, such as the rate of wages, destruction of pests and weeds and uniformity of assessment on boundary lines, and any other questions that might arise. The chairman called on Mr. Ainsworth to address the meeting. Mr. Ainsworth said he was pleased to address such a representative gathering, as he might not have the opportunity of meeting the councils so often this year as he was very sorry to inform them there would be neither capital or income grants available to the municipalities this year. Since coming to this district twenty years ago when there was scarcely any road machinery and the work was mostly carried on by the old methods of slash scrapers, etc., up to the present when there are only two Municipalities who have not large machinery of their own, in this district, and a splendid system of secondary highways throughout the various municipalities. He stressed the need of maintaining and keeping in repair these roads until such time as things return to normal. Then the grants will be renewed, and we can commence to open up new roads that are required. The chairman appointed Reeve McBride, Reeve Stringer and W. A. Saunders resolution Committee. After a long discussion, on the rate of wages paid for work on the roads, resolution brought forward by Reeve McBride of Pine Lake, and Reeve Stringer of Golden West, and adopted by the meeting, viz: Single man 30c. per hour; man and two horses 45c. per hour; man and four horses 60c.; Foreman 45c. 75c. per hour for extra horses. The committee also recommended at 8 hour day wherever possible. A discussion was held on the destruction of pests, every municipality present taking part. Some municipalities have no provision in the estimates this year, others are providing gopher poison to ratapayers as in the past, others part pay for gopher poison as well as bounty, others bounty alone. Reeve Owen, of Lockhart, was in favor of bounties providing a uniform bounty was paid by other districts. A suggestion was brought forward by Mr. Pepper that prizes be given for destruction of pests. A motion was brought forward by Fertile Valley and carried to a bounty of 2c. on Magpies and Crows up to May 31st and 1c. thereafter. A motion by Reeve Owen of Last West was adopted to pay a bounty of 1½c. on gophers up to May 31st. Thereafter 1c.

The chairman remarked that that was not binding on those Municipalities not favoring bounties but for a uniformity in these that were and looked for better things next year. The Weed question was taken up and thoroughly discussed. Some municipalities having only one weed inspector, others two or three. Mr. Pepper the Weed Supervisor was present and addressed the meeting. He said that he hoped that there would not be much cut in the estimates for 1932 for Weed Eradication, as some municipalities were spending very little at present. He spoke of the courtesy he received from the different councils and also many of the Weed Inspectors. He did not believe in the change of Weed Inspectors, unless for inefficiency. He also believed that there should be at least two inspectors in each Municipality. He spoke highly of the results achieved in Pine Lake, Lorne, Crown and Golden West, and hoped the good work would be carried on this year. There was much discussion on the assessment problems. It was the opinion of most present that a triennial assessment was unnecessary especially during these trying times. Motion by Reeve Sande, Lockhart, that this meeting urge upon the

THE OATH OF ALLEGIANCE

Mr. Dr. Valera has been warned by Mr. Neville Chamberlain, British Chancellor of the Exchequer, that the threat of Ireland to remove the oath of allegiance to the British Crown was looked upon by his government with the gravest concern. Such a step, he claimed, would re-arouse the bitterness which both England and Ireland hoped had been removed forever. In view of the freedom already enjoyed by the Irish Free State it may seem that the oath of allegiance is not worth the trouble of renunciation, since it is binding in no concrete way. Curiously enough Mr. DeValera himself, until he gained power, firmly maintained that the oath was of no consequence. He sanctioned the oath and made a truce with his conscience and his nationalistic electorate by dubbing it "an empty political formula." If trouble looms on the horizon, it will be interesting to see how much of this trouble Mr. DeValera will be willing to encounter for the sole purpose of removing the thing he has labelled an empty formula.

But there really should be no trouble over this matter. The oath of allegiance to the Crown is an admission of sympathies and ideals in common with those of the British Empire. If nation has not the same ideals and sympathies, then there is no reason why the oath of allegiance should be taken. That is all. It is all very well to warn Mr. DeValera that trouble will ensue if he removes the oath, but since he represents a majority of the people, and that majority is in favor of his policies, the matter is automatically cleared up.

There will be a pie Social and dance in the Joffre Hall on Wednesday evening, April 6th. Music by Morton's Orchestra. Everybody invited.
